FLEMING COUNTY: COVERED BRIDGE UNIQUE IN KENTUCKY

No one knows when the Goddard White Bridge was built across Sand Lick Creek. Wooden pegs join the timbers, and its design, called Ithiel Town Lattice, was patented in 1820. The bridge was renovated in 2006 and can carry vehicular traffic. Kentucky once had more than 400 covered bridges. Three remain in Fleming County: Grange City and Ringo's Mill are the others, but they are closed to traffic.
